Consent for Examination

Consent for Use of Dilating Medication(s)
Dilating eye drops are used to enlarge the pupil to allow examination of the inside of the eye. Although occurring rarely, risks of these medications include allergic reaction, acute glaucoma, and systemic reactions including increased blood pressure, irregular or fast heart beats and dizziness. Additionally, use of dilating drops will cause blurry vision and light sensitivity which can make driving and certain work conditions hazardous after an eye exam for a period of 4 – 6 hours or more. Because driving may be difficult immediately after an examination it is best if you make arrangements not to drive yourself.
However, if dilating eye drops are not used, the examination is sub-optimal and certain conditions such as macular degeneration, glaucoma and retinal tumors may go undiagnosed.

_____(Initials) I consent to the use of dilating eye medications.
_____(Initials) I decline the use of dilating eye medications.

Acknowledgement of Refraction Policy and Consent for Refraction (Optional)
Medicare policy requires that refraction (the exam to determine glasses prescription) be billed separately from an eye exam. Medicare, Medicaid and most insurance carriers do not pay for refraction. Patients are responsible for payment of a refraction. Payment is due in full at the time refraction services are rendered.

If you decline having a refraction, there is a greater risk that there may be a delay in diagnosis of some eye diseases which may cause long term vision impairment. Further, declining refraction prior to some surgeries may result in non-payment of the surgery by your insurance carrier or Medicare in which case you would be responsible for payment.

Charge for Refraction as of 03/17/14: $40

_____(Initials) I acknowledge that I have read and understood the refraction policy.
_____(Initials) I consent to refraction when determined appropriate by my physician.
_____(Initials) I decline refraction at this time.

Financial Responsibility & Consent for Treatment
It is the policy of Provident Eye Specialists, P.A. that payment is due at the time services are rendered. As a benefit to you we will bill services directly to your insurance carrier. However, you are ultimately responsible for all charges including, in the event of default, costs of collection and attorneys' fees.

I hereby authorize the assignment of medical and surgical procedures benefits from Medicare, Medicaid, other governmental insurances and/or private insurance to: Provident Eye Specialists P.A. at 11212 Montwood Dr., El Paso, TX 79936

I authorize Dr. Keak C. Khauv to provide reasonable and appropriate medical and surgical care consistent with the standards of care of the American Academy of Ophthalmology.
